MISS MARTIN PUTS IT TO PITTMAN

At the meetings which she has been holding in all parts of the state for the past week Miss Anne Martin, national chairman of the Woman's party, has thoroughly discussed Senator Key Pittman's record on national woman suffrage. She has told of his promise to support the national suffrage amendment in 1913 and of his vote against it in 1914. She has told that he now declares he will vote for the amendment in the same breath in which he begs the voters to return him to the senate because he is "a consistent and active supporter of the president," who is violently opposed to the amendment.

Miss Martin has frankly stated, however, that apart from the uncertainty women must feel concerning Senator Pittman's stand on national woman suffrage, the Woman's party would oppose him on the grounds that he belongs to a party which fights the national enfranchisement of women.

Miss Martin says the women have adopted the principle of party responsibility and on that principle are opposing in the suffrage states the national candidates of the Democratic party no matter what their record as individuals may be. The hostile record of their party condemns them.

CONSERVE THE LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY

The Bonanza is published in a community that is devoted solely to mining, yet but a few miles away there are flocks and herds grazing in the valleys and on the mountain sides. The livestock industry is second in importance in Nye county. The interview obtained with John M. Fulton, assistant general freight and passenger agent for the Southern Pacific company, published in yesterday's paper, is one of great interest to the people in the outlying sections of Nye, inasmuch as it was one vitally affecting their predominant industry.

Mr. Fulton is in the transportation business. It is very profitable to his company to transport sheep and cattle, yet he regrets that such a condition exists as to make it necessary this fall to transport 40,000 head of cattle and 250,000 sheep out of the state for winter feeding. This is made necessary by the scarcity of hay, but more particularly due to the exhaustion of the native grasses and shrubs on the ranges. Grazed over year after year, they do not have the opportunity to properly reseed themselves.

The time is at hand when the United States will not only be no longer an exporter of beef and mutton, but will be compelled to depend upon other countries, Canada, Argentina, New Zealand, Australia and elsewhere, for a large portion of its meat supply. With the millions of acres of range land in Nevada, this should not be the case. This state should supply the union with what it is lacking in meat. It could be done if experiments were carried forward intelligently and on a large scale in the cultivation of forage plants. Surely some variety can be found that would be able to subsist on our average precipitation, a plant with a deep tap root and a matting growth on the surface, so that it would protect the soil against evaporation and thus serve as a conservator of moisture through the arid season. Both government and state agricultural authorities should devote themselves to this matter.

FOR A BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

It behooves the voters, particularly the taxpayers of Nye county, to elect the entire Republican legislative ticket. Collectively and individually the members are pledged to reform and economy, as well as to progression; not merely generally speaking, but in specific instances. With J. Wesley Stewart in the senate and Harry McNamara, A. S. Putney, A. B. Perkins and R. E. Richard in the assembly, the people may be assured that there will be at least five votes pledged for the amending or abolition of the present burdensome and unfair primary election law.

These gentlemen will be business administrators, seeking economies wherever they may be found, so long as efficiency is maintained. They have made success of their own affairs and are qualified to be business doctors for the public. Not that any of them are rich men. They are simply well-to-do, giving as well as receiving, devoted to public as well as private welfare. They represent a diversity of interests, covering practically every line of endeavor in the southland, mercantile, newspaper, hotel, mining. They are well qualified and should receive handsome majorities.

WATER ON PLATT'S WHEEL

SAM PLATT will carry more than half the counties of Nevada in his three cornered fight this election, drawing not so much from Grant Miller as from Senator Pittman. There are several millstones hanging about the neck of the junior senator, sufficient to drown him in the depths of Salt creek. One of his heaviest incumbrances is his land bill. This is odious to all Socialists, who see in it a scheme to remove from them the right of homestead, by permitting all the desirable public land in Nevada to pass into the hands of great livestock and speculation corporations. The renunciation of the Pittman land bill by Socialist speakers is taking well and is making votes for both Mr. Miller and Mr. Platt, letting the fight simmer down to these two contestants. In view of this circumstance the election of Sam Platt is almost a foregone conclusion, with Mr. Miller second in place.

"I am satisfied if the women are for me," ejaculates with a grimace a judge of something or other who is candidate for the supreme bench, without having served apprenticeship in either the district or even the justice court. The women certainly are for him—with broomsticks, recollecting that a few months ago he did his utmost to shut up the Tonopah public schools and compel the mothers to teach their boys and girls at home. Are the women for him? Ask the first half dozen you meet.

INTERNATIONAL FARM CONGRESS IN SESSION

(By Associated Press.)

EL PASO, Oct. 20.—The eleventh international farm congress opened here today and will continue in session until Saturday night. The congress was called to order by W. M. Jardine, president, and the morning session was devoted to addresses of welcome by Mayor Tom Lea of El Paso, R. B. Orndorff, president of the El Paso chamber of commerce, and George R. LeBaron, chairman of the local board of control.

President Jardine delivered his annual address and announced the committees for the convention. In connection with the congress, the soil products exposition is being held here.

NEVADA WELL HEeled

The official count of cash and resources of Nevada state, revealed by latest report of condition, showed coin in the treasury, $520,647.31. The total of state school fund securities held was $2,463,200, a total of $2,983,847.31.

CONDUCTOR KILLED IN MELEE AT CARLIN

A shooting scrape in which J. P. Rhyme was killed by an Italian occurred at Carlin Tuesday night. Very little is known here of the affray, but from what can be learned the killing was the outcome of a row over a game of cards, says the Star.

The Italian was arrested shortly after and is in jail at Carlin.

Rhyme was a freight conductor on the Southern Pacific railway. His mother, who has been visiting in Reno, passed through here this morning en route to Carlin. The murdered man's father is a conductor on the Union Pacific.

WILL BE MODERN HOSTELRY

A new modern lobby with tile floors and hotel furnishings will take the place of the old lobby of the Hotel Golden at Reno, which was burned a few days ago in a $30,000 fire. Work of rebuilding the lobby and remodeling the entire ground floor has been started and is being rushed as rapidly as possible.

NO FATALITIES

(By Associated Press.)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 20.—Investigation reveals there was no foundation for the report that 12 persons were killed by an earthquake at Bessemer.
